BIDS IN SECTIONS OPENED FOR MUNICIPAL LIGHTING PLANT

Bids were opened last night by the Council Committee on Electricity for the new municipal lighting plant, which the Council has provided a quarter of a million dollars by a special bond issue. Under the direction of Engineer Trafford, the bids were divided into twenty sections. No bidder offered to do the entire work, though several made estimates on several parts, and there were two offers for practically all the electrical equipment, one from the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, $18,200, and one from Hotchkiss and Gordon, agents for the General Electric Company. All of the bids, together with a communication from the Passenger and Power Company in regard to the use of the present cables, poles and wires, were referred to a subcommittee, consisting of Chairman Richardson and Messrs. Pollock and Pollard, with City Electrician Thompson and Engineer Trafford, to tabulate and report to the committee with recommendations. The work will probably occupy several days, as careful figuring will be required to determine the lowest bidder in many of the classes, and to decide whether the work should be given as a whole or in parts.

How They Bid.
Part one of the specifications relates to the general conditions under which the work is to be performed. On Part two, for the removal of the old machinery and water-wheels from the Old Pump-House, the Central Transfer Company offer a credit of $600; J. Ross Lowry, $50, and the A. W. McClay Company would charge $50. Part three relates to the erection of the building to contain the electric plant. On parts two and three jointly, J. J. Smith and Company offer $6,237, and A. W. McClay Company, $7,800. For the construction of the building alone, the bids were: E. C. Woodward, $5,610; A. W. McClay, $7,750; and John T. Wilson, $6,421.00.

Part four is for all of the steel and ironwork and traveling crane, delivered and erected. The bids were: Virginia Bridge and Iron Company, $8,800; Berdore and Pawling, $7,700; A. W. McClay and Company, $8,202; John T. Wilson, $8,000; Richmond Structural Iron Works, $8,100.

Concrete work of all kinds, including chimney foundations, footing, masonry, foundations, walls and head-gates, embraced in part five, was bid for as follows: Arthur Taft, $22,262; J. J. Smith and Company, $19,247; A. W. McClay, $20,412.

Bids vary widely. Part six covers the rock excavations for which the bids are: Arthur Taft, $2,750 a yard; J. J. Smith and Company, $3 a yard; and A. W. McClay and Company, $3.00 a yard. Part seven is for perforated brick chimneys, either six or eight feet in diameter. Two bids were received on each size: Alphonse Custodia Chimney Construction Company, six feet, $2,750; eight feet, $3,170; 11 ft. Heinicke, six feet, $2,400; eight feet, $2,850.

The turbine water-wheels and governors, embraced in part 8, on which there were two bids—Allis Chambers Company, $19,403, and S. Morgan Smith Company, $15,250. The impulse water-wheel, known as part 9, also brought two bids—Allis Chambers Company, $1,080, and Electric Construction Company of Virginia, $735. The intake gates, timbers and hoisting gear, embraced in part 10, brought two bids—Cardwell Machine Company, $1,280, and S. Morgan Smith Company, $752.

Electric Machinery. Part 12 is for three water-driven electric generators, on which there were three bids—Crockett Wheel Company, $19,700; Allis Chambers Company, $13,075, and Westinghouse Company, $18,200.

Part 13 is for two turbo-steam generators, on which there were two bids: Allis Chambers Company, $23,900; Westinghouse Company, $30,000; Westinghouse Machine Company, $30,000.

Part 14 is for two motor-generator exciters, on which the Crockett Wheel Company bid $4,700; Allis Chambers Company, $3,650, and Westinghouse Company, $2,592.

The main switchboard is described in part 15. The bidders are Adams Bagnall Electric Company, $1,900; Electric Construction Company of Virginia, $3,500; main, $6,700; Westinghouse Company, $3,501.

On parts 16 and 17, the feeder regulator and electric wiring includes and cables, the only bidder is the Westinghouse Company, the offer on the first being $582, and on the second, $3,014. For electric wiring of the plant described in part 18, the Westinghouse Company bids $789, and the Winston Electric Construction Company, $825.

For two water-tube boilers, described in part 19, there were bids as follows: Edge Moor Iron Company, $9,641; Helme Safety Boiler Company, $9,832; Thomas B. Whitely & Co., $9,832; and Babcock-Wilcox Company, $9,828.

For the steam and water-piping embraced in part 20, M. W. Kellogg Company bid $2,765; W. P. Longworth & Co., $2,040, and Pittsburgh Valve and Construction Company, $2,100.

The Steam Plant.
Part 21 embraces a series of pipe railings and iron steps and fittings, on which the bids were as follows: Arthur Taft, $674; A. W. McClay & Co., $610; W. P. Longworth & Co., $756; Richmond Structural and Iron Works, $595, and Pittsburgh Valve and Construction Company, $1,900. On part 22, steam-pipe covering, W. P. Longworth & Co. offered the only bid, $193.

Part 23, for the boiler, feed pumps and heater, J. L. Lindsay bid $748 and W. P. Longworth & Co., $403. Under modified plans there were two bids for part 24, for the condenser system, the Pittsburgh Valve and Construction Company, $11,000, and the Mesta Machine Company, $9,352.

For are lamps for street lighting, for 1,000 lights, the Tower-Bimford Company bid $33,597, this bid to include the main switchboard embraced in part 15; Thomas Bagnall Electric Company bid $24,400 on the lamps and $12,100 on the transformer.

A combination bid was made on parts 12 and 14 by the Crockett-Wheeler Company for $24,219. W. P. Longworth & Co. bid on parts 20, 21, 22 and 23, $3,590, and the American Electric Manufacturing Company on parts 19, 20, 22, 23 and 24, $18,600.

Two blanket bids, covering practically all of the electric machinery, were received, one from Hotchkiss & Gordon, agents for the General Electric Company, on parts 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 25, for $36,592, and the other from the Westinghouse Company, for parts 12, 13, 14, 15, 17, 18 and 25, $38,208, and a separate bid from the latter concern on parts 15 and 25, for $55,071.

Engineer Trafford said last night that he could not say from a cursory examination of the bids whether the offers would prove available, but a hasty calculation showed the total to come within the appropriation.

WILL ATTEND UNVEILING

Statue of John Witherspoon, of Revolutionary Fame, Erected in Washington. Rev. Samuel H. Templeton, D. D., pastor of the Grace Street Presbyterian Church of this city, has been invited to take part in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue of Rev. John Witherspoon, D. D., signed in honor of the Continental Congress and president of Princeton College, on May 20 in Washington. The exercises will be in charge of the Witherspoon Memorial Association, of which Hon. John W. Foster is chairman. Vice-President James S. Sherman, British Ambassador James Bryce, and Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton University, will participate in the unveiling exercises. The statue has been provided by act of Congress at a cost of $25,000, and is located at the corner of Eighteenth Street and Connecticut Avenue. Dr. Witherspoon will make the opening prayer on the program.

MINISTER TO WED
Rev. Samuel H. Templeton and Miss Barnes will be married to-day.

A license was issued in the clerk's office of Henrico county yesterday for the marriage of the Rev. Samuel H. Templeton, of Hamilton, Va., to Miss Inez G. Barnes, the daughter of R. L. Barnes. The marriage will take place at the home of the bride in Henrico county to-day.

Mr. Templeton took his A. M. degree at the University of Virginia, and later graduated there in theology. For some time he was the editor of the Richmond College Messenger, the monthly publication of the college. He was born in Fauquier county.

Other licenses issued were as follows: Linwood Byers and Miss Ellen T. Ivey, both less than twenty-one years of age, Joseph Hye and Miss Annie M. Kramitzky. Both were born in Germany. L. Stagg Powell and Miss Georgia C. Wiseman.

For Temperance Meeting.
The committee of ministers having charge of the arrangements for the proposed temperance rally to be held here shortly will meet at the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon. Pending the holding of to-day's meeting there will be no changes in the situation, and nothing of a more definite nature to announce than what has already been printed on the subject.

Dr. Williams Here.
Dr. Robert P. Williams, proprietor of the Catwax Sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis patients, was in the city yesterday, and was a caller at the State Department. He is here to discuss the work on the buildings in proceeding in a satisfactory manner, and that he hopes to be able to open the institution to patients by June 4.

DO NOT PRACTICE DIVINE HEALING

Pastor Daugherty, Believer in Efficacy of Prayer, Dies After Long Illness.

CALLED DOCTOR NEAR END

Family Persuaded Him That Physician Should Be Summoned to His Bedside.

Rev. John W. Daugherty, pastor of the Apostolic Church of Fulton, died yesterday at 2 o'clock at his home, 807 Graham Street, Fulton, in his fifty-fourth year. Mr. Daugherty had come into prominence in recent years through his advocacy of what were regarded by many as extreme views on the subject of divine healing. The congregation of which he was the pastor has been at no time affiliated with the Christian Scientists or with any form of mental healing or suggestion, but has taken a pronounced stand in the subject of the efficacy of prayer, holding that disease could be cured by the prayers of the faithful, without the intervention of physicians or human agencies.

In his last illness Mr. Daugherty decried calling in a physician for some time, but later yielded to the wishes of members of his family, and several physicians were called into consultation. It was found, however, that he was suffering from Bright's disease, and for some days he had been regarded as a matter of time.

Congregation Divided.
Mr. Daugherty was the son of the late Captain John F. and Lucy J. Daugherty, of Portsmouth, in which city he was raised. After a courtship of three years, he returned to Portsmouth and entered mercantile life, and it was not until after some years of business experience that he entered the Baptist ministry, becoming the pastor of the South Street Baptist Church, of Portsmouth, in the fall of 1885 he was called to the pastorate of Fulton Baptist Church, in this city, and accepted, occupying that pulpit for about two years.

Adopting at that time certain views in regard to open communion not in Baptist churches, where close communion is practiced, Mr. Daugherty resigned. A mass meeting of the congregation induced him to withdraw his resignation, but he was later convinced as he felt sure that his views were no longer in accord with Baptist teaching on several points. Later part of the congregation of Fulton Baptist Church, following Mr. Daugherty's views, split off from the main body and formed the Independent Apostolic Church of Fulton, and invited him to become its pastor, in which position he continued until his death.

Both Mr. Daugherty and his new congregation accepted of "divine healing" as the efficacy of prayer, although it is positively denied that at any time Mr. Daugherty practiced "healing."

Recalls Palmer Case.
The peculiar views of the congregation were brought into prominence several years ago by the deaths of two little children named Palmer, from diphtheria, without the services of a physician. In the inquiry which followed, it was shown that the mother was a member of the congregation, and that she had accepted his teachings as to the efficacy of prayer literally, and had refused to have a physician. It was denied that Mr. Daugherty went to the house as a "mental healer."

Some of the members of Mr. Daugherty's family did not agree with his views in regard to the use of medical aid, and it was stated yesterday by members of the family that in all cases of illness in the household, a physician has been promptly called. Mr. Daugherty is now a senior student at the University College of Medicine, and expects to engage in the practice of medicine. Another son, John W. Daugherty, Jr., is a practitioner of medicine in Portsmouth. His daughter, Mrs. Frank King, of Portsmouth; L. A. Daugherty, of Norfolk, and seven younger children.

The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, but it is probable that the funeral will take place in Portsmouth to-day, for interment.

SHERRY ELECTED POLICE SERGEANT
Won Over Fourteen Competitors in Contest to Fill Vacancy Caused by Death of Sergeant Amos.

Policeman Charles A. Sherry was elected Sergeant last night by the Board of Police Commissioners to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Sergeant Hutton Amos, of the Second District. He will enter upon his duties as soon as the necessary arrangements of uniform and other essentials can be made.

Sergeant Sherry was appointed out of fourteen competitors, all of whom took an examination, to qualify themselves for the position. Therefore, it is considered a compliment to receive the appointment. He is only thirty-six years old, and has been on the force only about six years, having received his appointment on July 7, 1903, the year of the famous street car strike. He is one of the youngest men on the force, both in point of years and in service. He has rendered conspicuous service on several occasions, the most recent being that in which he gathered evidence against a saloon charged with selling liquor to minors. On this case he worked night and day, and it was mainly on the evidence procured by him that the prosecution rested. He made two cases, and secured a conviction in each. He afterwards received the hearty commendation and congratulation of officers in high positions. He is a man well-liked by his brother officers, and all seemed generally pleased last night at his election.

The board was less than an hour in session, it took everything into consideration, the mental test, general fitness of the man and physical qualifications.

Marriage License.
Marriage licenses were granted yesterday to Michael E. Markham and Maynard H. and John A. Dutton and Myrtle M. Baughman.

RENEW FIGHT ON SANATORIUM

Neighbors Still Object to Tuberculosis Hospital, Though Permitting Many Cases at Large.

Dr. W. W. Parker, proprietor of the Church Hill Sanatorium, was summoned to the Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of conducting a hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis on East Grace Street, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Streets, without the consent of the Board of Health. The case was continued to May 7 in order to hear from the health authorities.

The case presents some rather involved points. Dr. Parker had been unanimously in favor of the maintenance of such an institution as Dr. Parker is conducting, regarding it as a great benefit to the community, rather than a menace, but the board has been perpetually beset by the protests of surrounding property owners and residents, who, without inquiry into the manner of the spread of tuberculosis, are convinced that it will be a menace to the neighborhood.

Early in 1904 certain parties proposed the erection of a cancer hospital on one of the principal streets, and to prevent this an ordinance was passed by the Council on March 18, 1904, requiring any person proposing to open a hospital for the treatment of cancer, tuberculosis or any contagious disease to secure the consent of the Board of Health. Dr. Parker, who has been a lifelong student of the treatment of tuberculosis, holds an old charter from the State Legislature for the establishment of a sanatorium, the exact value of which has not been determined.

Since the reorganization of the Health Department he applied for permission to open a sanatorium for the treatment of consumptives in a house at Twenty-third and Broad Streets, when there was a popular uprising of the neighborhood and hundreds of protests were presented.

Finding unanimous disapproval of the neighbors, the Board of Health ruled that it was inexpedient at that time to allow Dr. Parker to open his sanatorium at that location, and that in view of the protests, the board felt it had no right to grant the permit, though stating positively that it did not constitute a menace to the health of the locality.

Some time ago Dr. Parker purchased the old Van Lew house, occupying an entire block on East Grace Street, and has had it refitted as a tuberculosis sanatorium, believing that his place stood in ample grounds and was not objectionable to the neighbors. A few, however, have kept up the fight, and yesterday the proprietor found himself summoned to the Police Court on the charge of conducting a hospital without the consent of the Board of Health.

The institution is the only one in the city in which a consumptive person may find a refuge, such patients being barred from all the general hospitals, as well as from all hotels and boarding houses. Physicians in the neighborhood as well as Dr. Parker does a large amount of charity work and would be allowed to continue to operate an institution which has proved a credit to the city.

HOWITZERS AND BLUES TO ATTEND

Battery and Battalion Will Take Part in Alexandria Home-Coming on Friday.

Both the Richmond Light Infantry Blues' Battalion and the Richmond Howitzers definitely decided last night to take the trip to Alexandria, where, on Friday, they will take part in the ceremonies of home-coming week and the formal dedication Friday afternoon of the George Washington Park, planned and built by the George Washington Memorial Association.

The Howitzers, 100 strong, will leave on a special train over the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, at 9 o'clock to-morrow night, carrying four flat cars, a baggage car and two Pullmans. They will take with them four guns and six caissons, the seventy horses needed to draw them to be provided in Alexandria.

The command will remain until Sunday night, and will be quartered in cars. The men are looking forward with great anticipation to the trip, for they have many pleasant memories of their visit to Alexandria on the occasion of the celebration of their march through the Valley, where more than forty years ago General Jackson, with his army of Confederates, had preceded them.

The Richmond Light Infantry Blues' Battalion will leave over the same road at 8 o'clock Friday morning, and are ordered to report at the armory at 7:30 o'clock, in dress uniforms, with full dress belts and cartridge boxes. The full dress coats and helmets, with plumes, will be turned over to company quartermaster-sergeants not later than 12 M. Thursday, and to the battalion quartermaster not later than 7 P. M. the same date.

There will be, probably, at least 100 men who will go, and it is expected that many more will get leave to take the trip, and report before the last moment. Major E. W. Bowles expressed himself last night in the hope that every man will avail himself of the opportunity of this trip, as the battalion is to act as special escort to President Taft, and it is particularly desired that the battalion shall make its best showing.

President Taft and members of the Cabinet will attend Friday will be the guests of the Howitzers, and that afternoon the dedication ceremonies are to be held. The Blues are to be in the forefront by special invitation, and it is one of the greatest honors conferred upon them during their career. For that reason, Major Bowles is especially anxious that every man who possibly can shall attend. The command will return to Richmond about 1:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

SYDNEY FOUND GUILTY

Jury Returns Verdict of Murder in Second Degree After Being Out All Night.

Willie Sydney, alias Bill Bailey, was found guilty yesterday morning of murder in the second degree and was sentenced to eighteen years in the penitentiary. He killed Willie Scott, first of his name, over a cracker game, the stakes being 15 cents.

The case came to trial Monday morning, but the jury failed to reach an agreement on the verdict, and was locked up for the night. The verdict was handed in about 11:30 o'clock. The prisoner was defended by W. A. Willey and Frank W. Ruckman, who were appointed by the court.

WILL NOT ORGANIZE

Ginter Park Citizens to Continue Present Co-Operative Association.

At the quarterly meeting of the citizens of Ginter Park, held at the public school house on Monday night, it was decided to continue the present Co-Operative Citizens' Association without attempting any form of incorporation, the reason being that the experience of other incorporated suburbs had not proved altogether satisfactory. John Garland and Pollard were elected chairman of the association. Reports were received on the work of the school, the water works, the electric lights, police and fire protection, by the court.

SALVATION ARMY MAN LOST; WIFE APPEALS TO POLICE

Last Seen Thursday Night, When He Was Engaged to Watch Highland Park Hen Roost—Real Thief Who Got By Him Was Evidently Shot.

Since Thursday night, when he went to watch the hen roost of G. E. Guvator, of Highland Park, Harvey, was found yesterday morning, apparently, of making their acquaintance with several fat chickens perched in the trees about Friday morning by his wife. Whether he went out again Saturday night to watch and was shot accidentally is an enigma troubling the police and Mr. Guvator. It might have been a regular man, the man who had stolen chickens before. The fact remains that Livelys has disappeared. His wife is anxious, and the police are trying to find him. Mr. Guvator would like to know the name of the man who carried off some buckshot from his premises.

HIS WORK IS AT AN END

Appropriation Is Exhausted and Accountant McCarthy Is Framing His Report.

Former Mayor Carlton McCarthy, who has been at work in the various State offices under the direction of the State Auditing Committee since last summer, has brought his investigation to a close, owing to the fact that the appropriation has been exhausted. McCarthy is now at work on his report, and will have it ready for the auditing committee within the next few weeks. He will not discuss the contents of his report, though it is believed he will recommend some sweeping changes in the present manner of conducting the business of the State at the seat of government. It is not known what will be the policy of the committee with reference to making the report from the standpoint of his shift. All the coming session of the General Assembly as an official document. The committee having the work in charge two years ago gave the report out for publication as soon as it was made up by the accountant.

Managers Busy.
Much routine work was being disposed of at the various political headquarters yesterday. Captain Richard R. Korr, Mr. Tucker's manager, has returned to the city and was busy at his desk. Colonel James Mann had returned from Norfolk, and said Judge Moore, R. S. Christian, most encouraging nature. George Lindsey was on guard at Judge Williams's headquarters, and he declared that the situation was satisfactory from the standpoint of his shift. All the candidates were supposed to make speeches in the State yesterday.
